PREFACE

The First International Conference on Greek Linguistics was held at the University of Reading in September 1993. The Second, of which these volumes are the fruit, was held at the University of Salzburg, Austria, from 22-24th September 1995, hosted by the Department of Linguistics. It was organised by a Committee consisting of Gaberell Drachman, Angeliki Malikouti-Drachman, Chrysoula Klidi, and Ioannis Fykias.

The Conference was attended by over 100 linguists from all over the world - including the USA and Canada, Japan, Russia and Australia -- and 90 participants presented papers. The Presidential Address was given on this occasion by Gaberell Drachman on the topic "Language Acquisition and Greek syntax". The papers presented in the various Sections covered a wide range of topics in Synchronic and Historical, Theoretical and Applied Greek linguistics.

The present volumes of Proceedings contain most of the papers presented, and will thus serve as a kind of progress report on Greek Linguistics over the two years since the preceding Conference. The papers are arranged thematically.

We would like to express our deepest gratitude to all those who made this Conference and the publication of these Proceedings possible and successful.

The Senate of the University of Salzburg, for allowing us to use University accommodation and facilities. The Rektor of the University who graciously inaugurated the Conference. The host Department -- with special thanks to Chairman Oswald Panagl. The helpers -- secretaries, students, and university personnel.

Our sponsors were The Austrian Ministry of Science, Research and the Arts, Austrian Airlines – Swissair, and the Salzburg HypoBank.

Last but not least, we thank the Province and City of Salzburg, who offered us an unforgettable concert in the Archbishop's Residence.

These volumes are dedicated to Gaberell Drachman -- whose 70th birthday fell in the year of this Conference -- in recognition of his services to Greek linguistics over the years.
